Armistice day

By Quentin and Enzo

The 11th of November is a holiday in France. It commemorates the armistice of the first world war, November 11th 1918. On this date at 5:15 the cease fire was signed but the soldiers stopped fighting at 11 am.

I think it was amazing that all the fighting soldiers, all the planes, and all the tanks stopped fighting. Did you know that the mayor of Aix goes every year to the military cemetery and puts flowers on the graves of the soldiers. If you don't have anything to do on this day you can go there.

Politics: Canada has a new Prime minister

Canada has a new prime minister, Justin Trudeau. He is part of the Liberal party. He is the 23rd prime minister and his father was prime minister too.

He is a Canadian politician.

He is also the second youngest prime minister in Canadian history after Joe Clark. Trudeau was born in Ottawa and attended college Jean- de-Brebeuf. I think he will change some stuff in Canada. Before he was on advertisements and they said he is not ready but I think he is. We will see what the future holds for Canada with the new prime minister.

THE MYSTERY OF THE LOST TEETH

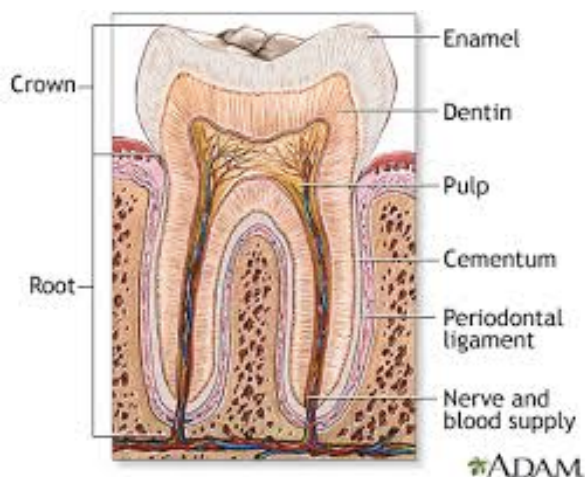

By Auriane

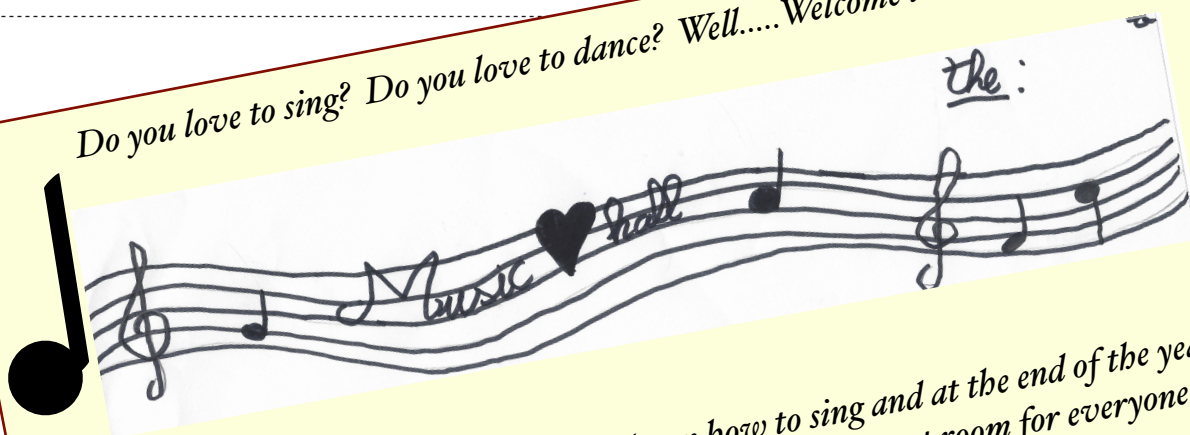

Believe it or not, so far this year, almost all of the primary students have lost their teeth with one teacher, Heather.

She is the kindest of all the English teachers. But the question is, why do all of the teeth fall out with Heather?

I found that this does not happen on purpose. It is just life. Why do teeth fall out? Teeth fall out because the teeth underneath are pushing to go out and the teeth on top have to get out and the gums bleed. It is like a chainsaw that cuts the blood vessels. Some people think this is disgusting and others think it is good. That is what is happening at the UP.

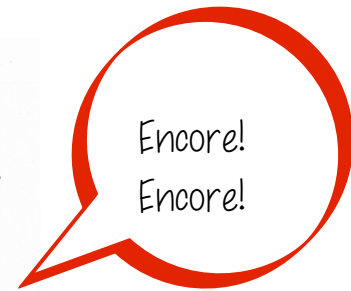

Do you love to sing? Do you love to dance? Well..... Welcome to ..

Mondays at 16:45 to 17:30 You can learn how to sing and at the end of the year, the children will do a cabaret. Come quickly, there is not room for everyone.

THE SCHOOL PERFORMANCES

THANKSGIVING

Do you like turkey? At the end of November Thanksgiving is celebrated. For Thanksgiving we eat turkey.

What is Thanksgiving day?
Thanksgiving day is a day set aside each year where people in the United States and Canada celebrate.

The first Thanksgiving day was celebrated in Plymouth in New England. It was to give thanks. The Native Americans were invited.

Today, Thanksgiving day is usually a family reunion dinner celebration. Thanksgiving dinner originally was some sort of cranberries, fish, dried fruit, clams, venison, plums, and lobster. Today people usually eat turkey with cranberry sauce.

Do you remember Halloween? It was at the Tino Rossi Room. There were some spooky performances by the whole primary with great costumes and decorations.

Did you like the Halloween show? Well you will love Christmas! It will be the 10th of December with all the decorations and the pretty songs that the teachers have chosen carefully. We are all impatient to know the songs that the other classes have chosen. Don't forget to bring food because Santa is hungry (and us too)!

TRIP TO SPAIN WITH THE SPANISH CLUB

Did you know that the spanish club went to Spain during the last vacation? There were nine people who went on the trip. Three adults, Christine, Patricia and Maîté, the spanish teacher went with six children, Garance, Maelys, Quentin, Auriane, and us, Juliette and Julie.

In Spain we visited the museum Dalí in Figueres. It was funny and strange. We slept in Valencia. In Valencia we visited the train station, the ancient arena, and the city hall. We slept another night in Valencia and we went to Villanueva de Los Infantes. It is a little village. In Infantes, we visited a school and a church. We slept two nights in a convent. It was really comfortable.

After we went to.....PORT AVENTURA!!!! In Port Aventura we saw a show and we slept two nights in a hotel near the park. On the road back to France we went quickly to Barcelona and we saw the Sagrada Familia.

We hope that this article will make you want to go to Spain. On one condition...speak Spanish.

THE INTERNATIONAL SPACE STATION CELEBRATES 15 YEARS

BY CARLA

Monday the 2nd of November marked 15 years since astronauts began living at the International space station. The International Space Station (ISS) was launched back in 1998, but it was another two years before astronauts went to live there. Since then there has always been someone staying at the station up in space. Here are some facts about the Space Station. It is about 115 meters long. That is just a bit bigger than a rugby field. 220 people from seventeen different countries have lived there. It orbits the Earth every 90 minutes.
